City of Menifee Breaks Ground on Largest Bike Park in Southern California

The six-acre Gale Webb, Kids-R-#1, Action Sports Park will feature bike trails with over 30 obstacles including a bicycle playground and a 22,000 square foot pump track.

MENIFEE, CA – City of Menifee councilmembers and staff along with members of the community joined together this morning to celebrate the groundbreaking of The Gale Webb, Kids-R-#1, Action Sports Park. This new state-of-the-art facility will be the largest of its kind in southern California.

The Gale Webb, Kids-R-#1, Action Sports Park will feature bike trails with over 30 obstacles for different skill levels including a bicycle playground and a 22,000 square foot pump track. The new six-acre park is located at the southeast corner of Evans Road and Craig Avenue.

The park is named for Gale Webb, a long time Menifee resident who inspires and encourages youth through her nonprofit organization, Kids-R-#1. Gale has overcome tremendous adversities with poise and persistence. Following a parachute accident, doctors told her that she would never walk again. Gale proved them wrong and has gone on to make a grand impact in the actions sports industry and has been an inspirational mentor to kids of all ages.

“It’s only fitting that the largest bike park in southern California be named after someone so foundational to the popularity of extreme sports,” said Community Services Director Jonathan Nicks. “We hope this new park will inspire the next generation of action sport athletes.”

The Gale Webb, Kids-R-#1, Action Sports Park is expected to open in fall 2022.
